46 MANAGEMENT OF INSURANCE RISK AND FINANCIAL RISK

Specify what is the risk under any insurance contract for e.g. the possibility that the insured event occurs and the uncertainty of the amount of the resulting claim.

46.1 Insurance risk

The risk under any one insurance contract is the possibility that the insured event occurs and the uncertainty of the amount of the resulting claim. By the very nature of an insurance contract, this risk is random and therefore unpredictable.

Disclose the objective of each risk mitigating factor along with the details as to how these mitigating factors are applied to each insurance contract. This information shall include qualitative as well as quantitative criteria used for such risk management.

a) Frequency and severity of claims

Define factors affecting the frequency and severity of claims, indicating how each factor is dealt with through the management of insurance risk (as described above). The management of concentration risk should specifically be included as a part of this note as should risks associated with the improvement in mortality for annuity contracts.

This should include, in the case this is significant, quantitative data on exposure of the company to specific risks and locations relevant to possible accumulation of losses.

b) Sources of uncertainty in estimation of future benefit payments and premium receipts

Disclose factors impacting future benefit payments and premium receipts along with a statement of the assumptions made by the company and an indication of factors which may cause these assumptions to vary. These may include (where applicable):

- Mortality and morbidity experience, especially for various classes of short term business (group life, health, personal accident etc).
- Persistency rates for long term indivdual policies.
- Expense levels and inflation
- Investment returns
- Tax

Disclose the process followed for recording and estimating the cost of unpaid claims (both reported and not) and the estimation techniques used by the company. Disclose how the techniques are used by the company.

Disclose the process for estimation of IBNR and its provisioning mechanism in detail.

c) Process used to decide on assumptions

Where assumptions are made with respect to amounts recognized in the financial statements (especially those listed above under (b)), disclose the process used to determine these assumptions which shall, where relevant, include the process followed to arrive at any judgement made by the company's management. In the case of each separate assumption specify details about the assumptions and on the basis on which such assumptions are used by the company.

d) Changes in assumptions

Disclose the changes in assumptions if any, the qualitative and quantitative information in this respect and the monetary impact of such changes on the profit and loss account. Also disclose why such changes in assumptions have been incorporated in the company's estimation.

e) Sensitivity analysis

In respect of all the variables affecting the estimates reported in the financial statements indicate the impact of any variation in the assumptions made

ANNEXURE III

Principles for Calculation of Solvency Margin of Life Insurers

[See Rule 14]

1. Each life insurer is required to maintain an excess of admissible assets over liabilities, including policyholder liabilities, of:

- (a) a fixed amount as specified in Rule 14(1)(a); plus
- (b) a solvency margin calculated in accordance with this Annexure, to be maintained as prescribed in Rule 14.

2. For statutory funds of life insurers set up under sub-section (5) of section 14 of the Ordinance in which accident and health business is written, the solvency margin as at any date would be calculated as the higher of:

- (a) 20% of earned premium revenue in the preceding twelve months, net of reinsurance expense subject to a maximum deduction for reinsurance of 50% of the gross figure; or
- (b) 20% of sum of liability for unexpired risk and its liability for outstanding claims, net of reinsurance subject to a maximum deduction for reinsurance in each case of 50% of the gross figure.

3. For other statutory funds the solvency margin shall be calculated by carrying out two exercises as under, and to take the higher of the two figures:

- (a) Determination of the solvency margin to be maintained in each Statutory Fund on the basis as provided in paragraphs 5 to 9 below; and
- (b) Requiring the appointed actuary to determine the policyholder liabilities on certain scenarios to be specified by the Commission through circular, with the margin being determined as the highest excess of the liabilities determined in any of the scenarios over those displayed in the financial statements.

4. The Commission shall specify through circular the scenarios mentioned in paragraph 3(b) above after consulting the Pakistan Society of Actuaries. Till the scenarios are prescribed only the first calculation shall be carried out.

5. The first calculation of the solvency margin for each Statutory Fund for business other than Accident and Health business would be determined in two parts (the margin being the sum of the two parts):

- (a) A proportion of the policyholder liabilities determined by the Appointed Actuary, such proportion being referred to below as the "First Factor"; and
- (b) A proportion of the Sum at Risk, such proportion being referred to below as the "Second Factor".

6. The First and Second factors will depend upon the nature of underlying policies and will be as per Attachment 1 to this Annexure.

7. The first part for each line of business will be calculated as follows:

K1 x Policyholder Liabilities before Reinsurance x First Factor (per Attachment 1)

where K1= 0.85* or (Mathematical Reserves after Reinsurance/ Mathematical Reserves before Reinsurance), whichever is higher. [* 0.50 in case of reinsurers, carrying on life insurance -business].

8. The second part for each line of business will be calculated as follows:

K2 x Total Sum at Risk before Reinsurance x Second Factor (per Attachment 1)

where K2= 0.5 or (Sum at Risk after reinsurance/Sum at risk before reinsurance), whichever is higher; where the Sum at Risk for an individual policy is negative it is to be ignored.

9. The solvency margins mentioned in paragraphs 5 to 8 shall be partially applicable until 31 December 2014, in that life insurers will be required to maintain at least the following proportion of the margins calculated:

As on 31 December 2012	33%
As on 31 December 2013	67%
As on 31 December 2014	100%

The calculations set out in paragraphs 2 to 9 above shall be carried out for each statutory fund separately and shall be supported by a statement to be prepared in accordance with the form given in Attachment 2, such Attachment requiring to be submitted as a part of each Financial Condition Report being submitted under section 50 of the Ordinance. In case a life insurer applies for and is granted permission by the Commission to maintain the solvency margin in its shareholders' fund and statutory funds in aggregate (rather than within each statutory fund), than the statutory margin to be maintained in the shareholders' fund and statutory funds in aggregate of the margin calculated for each statutory fund separately, and shall be in addition to the fixed amount prescribed under Rule 14 (1)(a).

3. Interpretation.--In this annexure, --

"Valuation date", in relation to an actuarial investigation, means the date to which the investigation relates; and

"Actuarial Reserve" means the "minimum actuarial reserve for policyholder liabilities" as referred to in Section (50), sub section (5) of the Ordinance.

4. Method of Determination of Actuarial Reserves (for policies other than those covered by Clauses 8 and 9) -(1) Actuarial Reserves shall be determined separately for each contract by a prospective method of valuation in accordance with sub-clauses (2) to (5):

(2) For a whole life policy, the actuarial reserve shall not be less than the mathematical reserve of a policy calculated on the following assumptions:

- (i) The policy takes effect one year later than the actual date of commencement;
- (ii) Total number of years' premium paid is reduced by one year;
- (iii) The interest rate is at the rate of interest in accordance with clause 6; and
- (iv) The mortality in respect of the life assured under the contract is in accordance with clause 6.

(3) For an endowment policy or a whole life policy where the premium paying period is not less than twenty years the actuarial reserve shall not be less than the mathematical reserve of a policy calculated on the following assumptions:

- (i) The policy takes effect one year later than the actual date of commencement;
- (ii) Total number of years' premium paid is reduced by one year;
- (iii) The interest rate is at the rate of interest in accordance with clause 6; and
- (iv) The mortality in respect of the life assured under the contract is in accordance with clause 6.

(4) For an endowment policy or a whole life policy where the premium paying period is less than twenty years the actuarial reserve shall not be less than the mathematical reserve of a policy calculated on the assumptions in sub-clause (2), and to the reserve so obtained shall be added one twentieth the number of years by which the premium paying period falls short of twenty years of the difference between the reserve obtained on the assumptions in sub-clause (2) and the reserve obtained as follows:

- (i) The policy takes effect on the date it commenced and for the premium paying period mentioned therein;
- (ii) Total number of years' premium paid is unadjusted
- (iii) The interest rate is at the rate of interest in accordance with clause 6; and

(iv) The mortality in respect of the life assured under the contract is in accordance with clause 6.

(5) For a single premium policy the actuarial reserve shall not be less than the mathematical reserve calculated on the following assumptions:

- (i) The interest rate is at the rate of interest in accordance with clause 6; and
- (ii) The mortality in respect of the life assured under the contract is in accordance with clause 6.

5. Considerations in determination of Actuarial Reserves under Clause 4 - (1) The valuation method shall take into account all prospective liabilities as determined by the policy conditions for each existing contract taking credit for premiums payable after the valuation date.

(2) The appointed actuary shall take appropriate steps to ensure that the amount of actuarial reserve for any policy is not "negative"

(3) The valuation method shall be the "Net Premium Method".

(4) If in the opinion of the appointed actuary, a method of valuation other than the Net Premium Method of valuation is to be adopted, then, other approximations (e.g. retrospective method) may be used:

Provided that where the appointed actuary is satisfied that the amount of calculated reserve is expected to be at least equal to the amount that shall be produced by the application of the Net Premium Method.

(5) The method of calculation of the amount of liabilities and the assumptions for the valuation parameters shall not be subject to arbitrary discontinuities from one year to the next.

6. Valuation Parameters (applicable to clauses 4 & 5) - (1) The valuation parameters shall constitute the bases on which actuarial reserves have to be computed.

(2) Mortality rates to be used shall be in accordance with the table of mortality rates prescribed by the Pakistan Society of Actuaries.

(3) Morbidity rates to be used shall be by reference to a table, the use of which can be justified by the appointed actuary.

(4) Valuation rates of interest, to be used by appointed actuary, subject to the following, shall be an effective rate of 3.75% per annum.

- (a) this rate shall be subject to review by the Pakistan Society of Actuaries from time to time; and
- (b) other parameters, may be taken into account, depending on the type of policy. In establishing the values of such parameters, the considerations set out in this Annexure shall be taken into account.
